NOTICE—OBSERVING IN THE SUNDAY PAPERS

the programme of a benefit performance at Niblo's next Thursday, in which those words occur—'Third act of 'Camille,' by kind permission of Mathida Heron'—I beg to say that such permission has never been solicited from nor granted by ma. 'Camille' is my property, whereby I have acquired my dearly-bought lame, and which I, being bereft of my hard-won earnings, now employ to make a living for myself and child. This is a too wellknown fact to require discussion. For the sake of old and riendly remembrances of good Mr. Vincent I permit this performance of my play and its purformment, but I shall not allow a repetition of this offence against, both etiquette and my pecuniary interests. I hold 'Camille' as an helrioum for my daughter; who steals it robs an orphas.
